

Sandy Creek Organic Farm

Give your family fresh picked vegetables all year.

A weekly box of fresh locally grown produce raised organically by farmers just down the road. Easy drive-up & pick-up at the farm or at selected locations in the Sunshine Coast and Brisbane.

Eat locally

There's little better than vegetables fresh from the garden direct to your table. Unfortunately, most food served today travels more than you do -- until now. Sandy Creek Organic Farm, located just outside Beerwah, offers fresh vegetables for your meal. Our produce is certified organic, & picked at the peak of flavour. Each week, your box is filled with the taste of the season.

The idea is to provide you with high quality food, allow us to make a living farming the land & to promote a healthy local economy & environment.

How it works

Produce boxes will be ready for on-farm pick-up Tuesday, Thursday or Saturday. You drive up & pick up your box. It's that simple. If the farm is too far we have pick-up locations on the Sunshine Coast and in Brisbane and we are ready to help organize more. We are about cooperation.

Costs

The cost of a month of weekly boxes is $70 or $200 for a full season paid in advance. That's for on-farm pick-up. The cost rises when we deliver to other locations.

Keeping it simple

We ask for prepayment because it allows for a simpler flow of work on the farm, letting us focus on growing & harvesting high quality produce, versus time & energy spent on marketing.

Sandy Creek Organic Farm

We are now in our sixth year of growing & packing vegetables for our members to pick up at the farm. Our planted area is growing & we are looking for more people to join our little band of supporters.

Over a year, we grow more than 50 varieties of vegetables, herbs, spices & some fruits. This requires quite a bit of organization & we are still working the bugs out of the system. When I say bugs, sometimes I mean that literally. You might find some chew holes in your veggies. There will also be some unevenness in the contents of the box.

To eat local vegetables, means eating with the seasons & with the climate. The quantity & quality of our produce reflects these factors as well as our progress in rebuilding the soil. We still need your patience & support.

We are asking a price of $70 per month or $200 for a full season of three months, in return we will attempt to provide you with as much variety & quantity as we can. In addition to the vegetables we have in the box now, further planting continues to bring more quantity & variety. We will be communicating through a newsletter & personally to get your views on both variety & quantity.

Return the form below to sign up for your box of vegetables every week.
